REPORT OF PRINCIPAL AND SCHOOL IMPROVEMENT COUNCIL

McCrorey-Liston Elementary, home of the Soaring Eagles, is a Title I school nestled in the western part of Fairfield County. We serve students in child development through sixth grade. We set high standards for our students, and we expect and encourage all of our students to do their very best.

Our academic programs are student-centered. We utilize research-based instructional strategies to ensure that our students are meeting state and national standards. Technology integration, analyzing assessments, and curriculum alignment were our focus this year. Our balanced literacy program provided our students with one hundred-twenty minutes of uninterrupted instruction. The students and teachers utilized a new computer-based instructional program called Study Island to assist them in the areas of reading and math. We also continued to utilize data and daily intervention to provide our students with more individualized and small group instruction.

All teachers integrated technology into their lessons. We have Promethean boards and document cameras in our child development through sixth grade classrooms. This year we received new computers for our computer lab. We also provided our students with a class set of digital cameras, flip video cameras, and laptops for instructional use.

McCrorey-Liston received grants from Wal-Mart, Anderson Chevette Anderson, and the Laura Bush Foundation this school year. We were also very fortunate to have numerous business partners. SCANA, Westinghouse and The Shaw Group designed and created a reading garden for the students and teachers to use as an outdoor classroom. SCANA also supported our after-school homework center.

The success of McCrorey-Liston is enhanced by the continuous partnerships with our PTA and SIC. The SIC sponsored our first Government Day. This event provided the students, parents, faculty, and community an opportunity to get to know their county and state-wide elected officials.

As we reflect on our school year, we continue to put students first while creating a school environment in which learning is our top priority. We look forward to building upon our instructional programs and continuing to strive towards academic excellence.

Chandra Bell, Principal
Katrina Tolbert, SIC Chairperson
